Statistical Report

Volume IV

Prepared by John A. Vosejпка

FOREWORD

It's over...another City Conference girls' basketball season. And for the fourth consecutive season I have compiled a statistical report recapitulating the highlights of the just completed season. This report is the culmination of over 150 hours of viewing games, compilation, typing, mimeographing, and binding. I hope that you truly appreciate the time, effort and pride that I have placed in this report.

This report is, by no means, the effort of just one individual. My thanks go to every coach in the conference for their assistance in submitting the game summary reports to me. My thanks also to Marge Holderness for her cooperation. Without the help of all that I have mentioned, this report could never have been produced.

As I have stressed in previous reports, my sole objective in compiling the statistics for the conference has always been to give every player and coach in the conference some sort of recognition (which they all deserve) and to give special recognition to those that excel in a particular category. One must always remember that a player's ability cannot, and should not, be measured solely on her statistics.

As I reflect back upon the just completed season, I have mixed emotions about its conclusion. This season was the first that a Monroe team did not participate in. It did, however, see the beginning of a new era with the addition of Derham Hall and Hill-Murray. Our conference, always tough and competitive in the past is now, if not the strongest in the state, one of the top three (as was evident with a third and fourth place finish in the state for two of our teams and a Twin Cities title for St. Paul for another team). I feel that the addition of these schools has added more depth, prestige and excitement to a conference already rich in pride and tradition.

These are just some of my feelings concerning this past season. Hopefully, this report will help you remember the players, teams and records of St. Paul City Conference girls' basketball, 1977-78. Happy reading!

STATISTICIAN'S NOTE

With the addition of Derham Hall and Hill-Murray (and with Monroe no longer a senior high), the conference played a different amount of games (16 more) than were played last season.

For this reason, it is impossible to compare this season's stats with those of last year. I, therefore, was forced to compute the average statistic from last season and multiply that number to create a total that could be used for comparison. Seasonal increases or decreases that have been affected are denoted with an asterisk ().*

I feel that this is the only way that a true comparison of the two seasons is possible.
