STATISTICAL REPORT

Volume XXVI

Prepared by John Vosejпка

FOREWORD

The 27th season of St. Paul City Conference girl's basketball is now history. You were part of that history. My 26th annual report is a look at some of the statistics of the just-completed season, as well as past seasons. It is the culmination of more than 50 hours of compilation, typing, duplicating and binding.

This report is, by no means, the effort of just one individual. My thanks go to every coach for submitting their home game statistics. THANKS! You made this report possible!

As I have stressed in previous reports, my sole objective in compiling these stats has always been to give every player and coach in the conference some well-deserved recognition and to give special honor to those that excel in a particular category. Remember that a player's ability cannot, and should not, be measured solely on her statistics.

Cretin-Derham Hall won its record ninth straight conference title. During that time the Raiders have won 61 consecutive conference games, an all-time record for either boy's or girl's. They eclipsed the 56-game streak by Central's boy's teams (1983-1987) in a win against Arlington in February. The defending Class AAAA state champion Raider squad then went on to capture the Twin Cities Game title, defeating North by a score of 65-60, breaking a three year span of Polar victories over Cretin-Derham. It was the sixth T.C. title for the Tom Cody-coached Raiders. St. Paul holds a resounding 19-7 edge in the series of annual conference champions. Cretin-Derham Hall and Highland Park lost in its bid to return to the state tournament, losing in both of its sectional finals.

Arlington won its first game ever in the conference when it defeated Humboldt in December. It ended a 28-game losing streak by the Phoenix, tied for second longest ever in the conference (Humboldt lost 40 straight from 1984-1987). For the first time ever in the annals of girl's or boy's conference basketball, there was a tie for a scoring championship. Arlington's Michele Thomas and Laura Haugen from Highland Park shared the title with a 17.6 average. It was the first scoring title ever won by an Arlington player and sixth for Highland Park. Haugen would finish her Scot's career with 790 conference points, ranking fifth on the all-time scoring list. Central's Nakia Carlisle completed her sophomore season with 233 points, giving her a career total of 475, fourth best all-time in Central history. If she continues at this pace she will break the all-time record held by Harding's Shannon Loeblein (900 points) sometime in her senior season. Last, but certainly not least, Cretin-Derham's Kate Townley finished her fabulous four-year career without ever losing a game in the conference. Her 588 career points in the conference ranks third on the all-time Raider scoring list. But scoring stats belie her abilities. In my humble opinion she ranks right up there with other conference greats and deserves to be recognized as such, even though you won't see her name on the all-time lists. Congratulations to Kate on a fine conference career and best wishes in her collegiate years.

As you peruse the pages of this and previous reports, I hope that it will help you remember the players, teams and records of St. Paul City Conference girl's basketball. See ya!
