

The text pages for the 2003-2004 Girl's Basketball Stats Book were printed on recycled paper. This kind of paper does not scan well and leaves a fuzzy background image. There wasn't an easy way to clean up this background so the pages will not appear as clear as other years.

STATISTICAL REPORT

Volume XXX

FOREWORD

The 31st season of St. Paul City Conference girl's basketball is now history. You were part of that history. My 30th annual report is a look at some of the statistics of the just-completed season, as well as past seasons. It is the culmination of more than 50 hours of compilation, typing, duplicating and binding.

It is traditional for me to compare, in this annual report, numerous statistics from one year to the next. With Cretin-Derham Hall no longer in the conference, each team played two less conference games. Because of this, it is impossible to directly compare this and last season. To get an idea of how the conference did in relationship to last season, I took a proportional amount per game and multiplied it to formulate a number that could be used to make some comparisons. All numbers that have been treated in this fashion are noted with an asterisk ().*

Central won its fourth consecutive title and sixth overall crown in girl's basketball. With a perfect 12-0 conference log, the Willie-Taylor coached Central squad would lose a heartbreaker in the Twin Cities Game, falling to North by a 66-65 score. North would go on to win the Class AAA State Title. Central would fall to Woodbury in the Section 3AAAA finals, but there was no shame in losing to the defending State Champ, who finished third in this year's tournament. Johnson would finish second in the conference, the highest finish ever by a Governor team. Their 21 wins this season was also a school record.

Underclassmen would once again dominate in the conference. Johnson's Ebony Black became the first freshman to ever win a scoring title. Her conference average of 22.1 points was the fourth highest ever in one season!! At her current pace, she will shatter every career scoring record in the conference. Her career average of 19.4 points per game places her second only to Shannon Loeblein in that category. Central junior Ashley Ellis-Milan established herself once again as an outstanding scorer as she moved into the all-time top 25 scorers in conference history. Her 583 career points ranks 24th all time and she most assuredly will finish in the top ten before her career is through. One senior that did excel was Highland Park's Tonia Jackson. The co-defending scoring champion finished her conference career with 728 points, ranking eleventh in the all-time history of scorers in St. Paul.

Next year is the 100th anniversary of the first basketball game ever played in the St. Paul City Conference. It was on Thursday, February 9, 1905, when Central defeated Mechanic Arts 21-18, that the conference would play the first game in its illustrious history. I am hoping that a logo will be created and put in programs and posted in gyms, proudly displaying the fact that our conference is celebrating its centennial in basketball. With conferences realigning state-wide on a regular basis, it is reassuring to know that our conference has withstood the test of time and has remained strong and vibrant over the years.

Don't forget that complete statistics, including this year's All-Conference team, are found on the St. Paul City Conference athletic Web site. The address is www.stpaulathletics.org and you will not only find basketball stats but results and standings from all conference athletic events.

As you peruse the pages of this and previous reports, as well as the Web site, I hope that it will help you remember the players, coaches, teams and records of St. Paul City Conference girl's basketball. See ya.
